PET POISON HELPLINE℠

Poisoning Steps

[Stop, Drop, and Control]

1

Observe your pet's behavior
and identify if a potential poisoning could have occurred.

Call your veterinarian or Pet Poison Helpline immediately
The sooner a pet poisoning is addressed, the easier, less expensive, and safer it is to treat.

Be prepared to offer the following information to Pet Poison Helpline:

- Your pet's age, breed, and weight
- What your pet was exposed to (substance and approximate amount)
- What type of exposure occurred
  (i.e., ingestion, skin contact, inhalation, etc.)
- Abnormal signs your pet is experiencing
- Credit card information
  as payment will be required before an assessment can be made.

Pet Poison Helpline will evaluate the poisoning
We assess the substance the pet was exposed to, run calculations (if needed), and will determine if the pet can be monitored or treated from home or should be seen by your veterinarian.
